GEORGE NORTON OF SALEM, MASSACHUSETTS, AND HIS SUPPOSED CONNECTION WITH THE NORTON FAMILY OF SHARPENHOE, BEDFORDSHIRE

By HERBERT F. SEVERSMITH, M.A., of Washington, D. C.

I. George Norton and his Descendants

GEORGE¹ NORTON was born perhaps about or before 1610, possibly in Luton, Bedfordshire. He is considered by many descendants to have derived from a family which was located for about two hundred years in the southern part of Bedford, and from which a number of families of the name in America claim descent.

Charles E. Banks in The Planters of the Commonwealth, states that George Norton and John Norton sailed from Gravesend, England, in 1629 in the company of the Reverend Francis Higginson. George Norton is recorded in April of that year as a resident of Salem, Massachusetts, and was recommended to Captain John Endicott as a carpenter "whom we pray you respect as he shall deserve." He was made a freeman of the Massachusetts Bay Colony May 14, 1634 and in the same year contracted to build the meeting house at Salem for one hundred pounds. He served on juries in 1638, 1639 and 1640.

John J. Babson in The History of the Town of Gloucester, Mass., p. 118, mentions George Norton as one of a company which in 1640 had leave from the General Court to erect a village at Jeffries Creek, now Manchester. His name does not appear in the Gloucester records as a grantee or purchaser of land, but he was of record in 1642, and probably received from the commissioners the grant of the farm at Little Good Harbor, which he sold to William Vinson. His qualifications were such that he was one of the first board of officers chosen by the town for the settling of its affairs, and its first representative in 1642. After 1644 and before 1648 he seems to have been of Wenham.

In The Records and Files of the Quarterly Court of Essex County, Massachusetts (printed vol. I, p. 156), in a Court held at Salem, 20th of 12th month (February), 1648, George Norton was presented to the Court for ..... lying and suborning witnesses to scandalize the church of Wenham, to pay 20s for two lies and seven witnesses three days, and to confess before the assembly met at Wenham in the meeting house, as follows: "I doe confess and acknowledge yt I have sinfullie endeavored to Justifie my self and my turbulent and factious agitations agnst the Just and orderlie proceedinges of the church agnst me for my sin in yt I haue uncessantly laboured out of the pride of my hart to gather up witnessis of all sorts to testifie against the dealinge of the Church with me seekinge thereby to lay a scandall uppon the Church which cannot but greatly tende to ye dishonr of god and ye reproch of religion." Refusing to make the confession, to sit one hour in the stocks.

Norton chose to sit in the stocks. Apparently that tenacity of mind which showed in certain later descendants was an early attribute of the family.

In 1656 Lucie Downing of Salem, with the consent of her husband, Emanuel Downing, leased to George Norton, sometime of Salem, carpenter, the farm called Groton, near the farm of the "Worshipfull Jonathan Endicott," for ten years from March 1, 1656; the rate was eighteen pounds a year, paid in Indian corn, wheat, barley, pork, butter, cheese and cattle. He was to build a house, the chimney to be of brick and therefor he was to have one year's rent free.

In The Essex Institute Historical Collections for 1859, vol. I, p. 92, appears a report of the inventory of George Norton, taken 22nd of 7th month (September), 1659, which amounted to £134/11/6. It stated that Freegrace and John Norton, eldest sons of the abovesaid George Norton, offered and petitioned to the Court to allow and confirm the offer to give up their portion of their father George Norton's estate to their mother, Maria Norton, for her sole use during her widowhood, and if the Court will make division and see what the shares of their brothers and sisters are, they will pay them their share that their mother may have the whole.

His wife is called unauthoritatively Mary Machias, qualified somewhat skeptically by John Stracham Lawrence in The Descendants of Moses and Sarah Kūham Porter, p. 114. She has been called the sister of Bethia Cartwrite of Salem (also called Elizabeth), whose will is given in the printed Probate Records of Essex County, Massachusetts, vol. I, p. 12:

I Bethia Cortwrite of Salem being in pfect memory doe make and ordaine this my last will and testament, first I give and bequeath my bed, my bolster and two pillow-beres with a blancet and a coverlet unto Elizabeth Capon my sister in walderswick in Suff item I give unto Mary Norton the wife of Georg Norton in Salem my best coat, item I giue unto my sister above said thre peuter platters and a double saltseller, item I giue unto John Jackson the son of John Jackson half a dozen spoones and a porrenger, item I give unto Margaret Jackson the wife of John Jackson of Salem my box of linning, with a payre of shetes, item I will that fower payer of sheets be sold to pay pt of my debts, item I give unto Elizabeth Kellem a surg wascot, Item I give unto John Jackson aforesaid my bible, item I will that my two best cloath wascotes to be sold as my shets aforesaid, Item I give unto Elezabeth Nickson my payer of Anderens, item I will that my napkins and bord cloaths to be sold as my wascots aforesaid. In witnes whereof I have hereunto set my hand this second day of May Anno Dom: 1640 her

Witness: Elizabeth Nickson, Thomas Warren

Proved June 30, 1640. No executor being named, John Jackson is appointed administrator. Georg Norton had expended about 5 li. under the deacons hands during her sickness, which is to be paid him, the coat mentioned in the will to be made a part of it. Norton's man attended her.

It will be observed that the phrasing of the will is ambiguous in that "my sister above said" may refer either to Elizabeth Capon or to Mary Norton. In our opinion it refers to Elizabeth Capon, inasmuch as she is specifically called a sister of the testatrix, whereas Mary Norton is not.

The widow of George Norton is referred to in The Fowler Family, by Matthew Adams Stickney, at page 5, wherein it is stated that Phillip Fowler (widower of Mary ?Winsley or Winslow) entered into a marriage contract February 27, 1659/60 with Mary Norton, widow; the contract was acknowledged the same date. On November 22, 1660 the Court at Salem issued a writ against Phillip Fowler and Mary his wife, executor of the estate of her late husband, George Norton, for thirty pounds. The complainant was Mr. William Norton of Salem, acting as attorney for Mr. Emanuel Downing; the action undoubtedly involved the farm called Groton mentioned previously. Phillip Fowler died June 24, 1679 and his widow was living until shortly before November 5, 1694. Mary (?Machias) (Norton) Fowler had no children by her second husband.

The children of George Norton by his wife Mary were

1. FREEGRACE², born in 1635, a miller. He was recorded at Saco, Maine in 1661, had removed to Ipswich, Massachusetts by 1667, where he had permission to build a house. He served as sergeant under Capt. Appleton, and was mortally wounded in a battle at Hatfield, October 19, 1675. He married Lydia, daughter of Roger Spencer; no issue found.
2. JOHN, born in 1637, baptised October 2, 1637 at Salem; a carpenter. He was a resident of Salem; married April 3, 1660, Mary, perhaps a daughter of Elder John Sharp. The children are of record in Perley's The History of Salem, Massachusetts.
- +3. NATHANIEL, married Mary Mills.
4. GEORGE, baptised March 28, 1641, died November 15, 1696 at Suffield, Connecticut. He married 1, October 7, 1669 to Sarah Hart, who died at Suffield, June 23, 1682. He married 2, Mrs. Mercy (Barker) Gillett of Windsor, June 20, 1683. See

Barker

Perley's The History of Salem, Massachusetts, Cutter's Genealogical and Family History of the State of Connecticut, vol. 4, p. 2017; also Early Inhabitants of Ipswich, Massachusetts. In this last reference the father is confused with the son, where on page 235 it is stated that George Norton was to ground sill the Meeting house, February 13, 1651. Again, on March 25, 1653, at a meeting of the seven men, it was agreed with George Norton to lay four gutters to the meeting house of large pine trees; to cover the groundsills about the house; make a sheet for the turret window, and cover for the upper shuttle-hole; for which he was to have eighteen pounds out of the next (tax) rate, "to be paid in as good pay as come in the work, to be finished by the third of Nov'm."

5. MARY, born at Gloucester, Massachusetts, February 28, 1643, married October 12, 1664, Thomas Hart of Ipswich.
6. MEHITABEL, born about 1645, married Samuel Adams, son of William Adams of Ipswich.
7. SARAH, baptised September 14, 1647 at Gloucester, according to Perley. She married Samuel Hart in February, 1678.
8. HANNAH, born about 1649, living in 1689.
9. ABIGAIL, baptised September 14, 1651, married Samuel Martin, son of Solomon and Mary (Pindar) Martin.
10. ELIZABETH, baptised August 7, 1653, married March 10, 1674, John Wainwright.

3. NATHANIEL² NORTON, son of George and Mary Norton, was baptised at Salem, Massachusetts, May 19, 1639. Like his father before him he was a carpenter and resident in Salem until about 1662. He is mentioned in the town records in that year as working on the construction of the meeting house, and it was stated that the building should have been finished in 1660. It is possible that this entry is indicative of difficulties which may have caused Nathaniel to remove. William S. Pelletreau states that first he went to Southampton, New York, but in 1668 purchased the homestead of Captain John Platt of Brookhaven. He paid for it in cattle.

In the next year he was engaged to build the new meeting house in Brookhaven; the townspeople were to haul the timber and to help raise it. For his services he was to be tax free for six years. On September 17, 1674 the town gave him land on Mount Misery; in 1676 he was elected Overseer. In the same year some of his land was exchanged in the town, and part of it assigned to newcomers, one of whom had pitched on his land before the town adjusted the matter. This last was Richard Hulse, and the latter's wife and Nathaniel Norton certainly were not friends, as certain passages in the original Town Records attest.

Nathaniel Norton seems to have been a yeoman of very devout inclinations, illiterate, but held in great respect by his contemporaries. His will supports some of these observations. It was made December 22, 1684 and was probated November 7, 1685; it is filed in the Lester Will Book at Riverhead, New York, and has been published as a part of that book under the title Early Long Island Wills of Suffolk County as edited by William Smith Pelletreau. It is to be regretted that Mr. Pelletreau modified the spellings in his edition, so that the will reads in modern context.

Nathaniel Norton married Mary Mills, daughter of Richard Mills of Stratford, Connecticut, Southampton, Long Island and Westchester, New York; her mother was a daughter of Francis Nichols* (American Genealogist, vol. IX, p. 18). She was probably the mother of the children, and survived her husband.

The children of Nathaniel Norton and Mary Mills were

11. ISAAC^a, born say about 1665 in Brookhaven, New York, living in 1718 but not of record in 1741. His wife was named Elizabeth June 4, 1705 (Liber A, p. 134 a/b, Deeds, Riverhead, New York, indenture of Isaac Norton and his wife Elizabeth to Joseph Phillips). He refused in 1718 to countenance the Presbyterian form of worship in Brookhaven, and hence was probably an Episcopalian. In Liber B of Brookhaven Town Records, page xxiii, earmarks, appears a record for May 11, 1752 which states that the earmark which had been Nathaniel Norton's, used by his son Isaac and then by Isaac's son George was afterwards that of William Helme, who sold it to Selah Hulse of whom Timothy Norton purchased it. This proves that Isaac had at least

- i. George^t, born about 1690, removed about April 21, 1739 to Huntington, New York. He married Mary Helme, daughter of William Helme and presumably Temperance Woodhull (American Genealogist, vol. XIV, p. 238). Descendants recorded by Joseph Norton Ireland in his Ireland Genealogy and by Mrs. Nathaniel Selleck in the Miner Genealogy, p. 132.

Mrs. Quincy Adams Gates of Deposit, New York, in a letter to the writer, July 2, 1938, states that her father in a record made "long ago" gave Isaac Norton as the father of

- ii. Tabitha, born in 1713, married September 3, 1735, William Jayne, born in 1712, son of William and Elizabeth (Woodhull) Jayne.

From various statements reported as family tradition, Timothy Norton of Mount Sinai and Nathaniel Norton have been recorded as children of Isaac Norton. We are convinced that these last two, however, are children of Jonathan Norton. In this connection it should be pointed out that if Tabitha (Norton) Jayne was a child of Isaac Norton, her father was approaching fifty when she was born, and she was some twenty years younger than her brother George, if the estimated birth dates are correct. Timothy Norton had a daughter Tabitha, and Tabitha (Norton) Jayne had a son Timothy, which suggests to us that Mrs. Jayne was closely related to Timothy. From these statements the reader may make his own inferences.

12. NATHANIEL, who removed to Cape May, New Jersey, where his will, dated December 27, 1721, was probated January 6,

* For a critical discussion of the alleged English ancestry of Francis Nichols of Stratford, refer to The American Genealogist, vol. IX, p. 9. Descendants who claim this ancestry to obtain membership in societies should be prepared to offer better evidence than that heretofore adduced.—H. F. S.

1721/2; recorded at liber 2, page 207 of New Jersey wills. He married Mehetable, daughter of John Parsons, by whom he had

- i. Daniel¹, who died in 1755.
- ii. Nathaniel, who died in 1750; had a son George.
- iii. Hannah.
- iv. Mary.

- 13. GEORGE, of record in Brookhaven in 1704, claimed by a note published in the Southold, Long Island Traveler to have had a daughter
 - i. Sarah⁴, who married Henry Wisner.
- 14. MARY, baptised probably at Stratford, Connecticut, September 28, 1673, recorded in the Woodbury, Connecticut church records. Living in 1684; not traced further.
- 15. SARAH, mentioned in the will, and not married in 1684.
- 16. HANNAH, mentioned in the will, and not married in 1684.
- +17. JONATHAN, married ———.

17. JONATHAN³ NORTON, son of Nathaniel Norton and Mary Mills, was born probably in Brookhaven, New York, shortly before his father made his will in 1684. As he does not appear in the 1704 tax list, whereas other sons of Nathaniel do, he was probably then just under age.

Jonathan Norton is known to have had one child, Jonathan junior, and there are strong presumptive indications that he was the father of Timothy and Nathaniel Norton listed below. In the 1741 and 1749 tax lists for Brookhaven Jonathan, Jonathan junior, Timothy and Nathaniel Norton are listed together. In these lists both Timothy and Jonathan are shown as comparatively well-to-do, more so than other members of the family. Another circumstance supporting this supposed connection is that in a quitclaim to the Reverend Mr. George Phillips, pastor of the dissenting or Presbyterian church of Brookhaven, the only members of the family who signed were Jonathan and Timothy. Isaac Norton, brother of Jonathan, is on record as opposed to this form of worship, which renders his relationship to Timothy probably outside of the direct line. As the other brothers Nathaniel and George Norton are of other reference, this leaves Jonathan reasonably as the father of Timothy.

Jonathan Norton was surveyor of highways in 1721 at the Old Man's (Mount Sinai) in Brookhaven, which indicates that he lived in the vicinity. He was fenceviewer for the same locality, May 1, 1744; commissioner for Brookhaven in 1745; fenceviewer again in 1747 and 1749. He died shortly before May 7, 1751; and in the same locality Timothy Norton is fenceviewer in 1751.

No will or administration has been found, and the name of his wife is unknown.

Issue, very certainly:

- 18. JONATHAN⁴, junior, living in 1749; descendants not traced.

And probably:

- +19. TIMOTHY, married Sybil Bryan.
- 20. NATHANIEL, living in 1741 and 1749; the name of his wife has not been reported. He is known, according to family record, to have had at least one son
 - i. Nathaniel⁵, whose biography appears in The History of Long Island, by Benjamin F. Thompson, as edited by Charles J. Werner, third edition (1917), vol. 4, p. 261. He served prominently in the War of the American Revolution, and subsequently was a minister of the Baptist church. He died in New York City, October 7, 1837 and was buried at Coram, Brookhaven, New York. He married 1, his cousin Elizabeth Norton, daughter of Timothy and Sybil (Bryan) Norton; 2, at Southold, New York, February 11, 1776, Mary Corwin, daughter of Samuel Corwin (Salmon Records). The children were, by first wife: Isaac⁶, a settler in Herkimer county, New York; Elizabeth, wife of Samuel Willard; a daughter, who "married a Norton of another family"; by second wife: a child who is said to have died young; and Samuel Fayette Norton, a prominent physician of Brookhaven, resident of Middle Island, New York. The latter married 1, Cynthia, daughter of Benjamin Hutchinson, one-time town clerk of Brookhaven, editor of the first printed book of records; married 2, Sarah, daughter of Isaac Hulse. There are many descendants.
- 21. ABIGAIL, who married Henry Dayton of Brookhaven, New York, and Colchester, Connecticut.
- 22. A daughter,* who married John Howell of Middle Island, Brookhaven, New York, and whose children were:
 - i. John⁸.
 - ii. Hannah.
 - iii. Jonathan, born about 1756, who married and had Davis, Norton and John Howell.

Possibly others.

19. TIMOTHY⁴ NORTON, probably a son (as we believe) of Jonathan Norton, was born about 1715, and at Mount Sinai, Brookhaven, New York. He was a resident of Middle Island, very prosperous and extremely conservative in nature. He seems to have supported the cause of the colonists in the War of the American Revolution, for he signed the Associations in Brookhaven in June and July of 1775 (Frederick G. Mather, The Refugees from Long Island to Connecticut, p. 1060). He was still alive in 1784 according to family record, but had deceased probably before 1790. No record of his will or administration has been found.

* We regret that the authority for this connection is not known to us at the present time. The information was collected several years ago, and the original reference either omitted in error or misplaced. The connection is made in good faith, however, and we have found nothing to cause us to doubt its validity.

He was fenceviewer for Mount Sinai in 1751, 1752 and 1768; commissioner for Brookhaven, May 3, 1757, and traditionally an elder of the church of Middle Island. He is still remembered as a man of unexampled strictness in his religious beliefs.

He married in the First Church in Huntington, New York, and by the Reverend Ebenezer Prime, March 18, 1739/40, to Sybil Bryan, daughter of John and Sybil (Fleet) Bryan of Huntington, a descendant of Alexander Bryan of Milford, Connecticut. She was still living in 1765 but probably did not survive her husband.

The children of Timothy Norton and Sybil Bryan were:

23. GEORGE^s, born about 1742, mentioned in the printed Town Records of Brookhaven, Book A, (1930), p. 114, said to have lived at Mount Sinai (New York Mail and Express for January 13, 1901, Note 4985). No further record.
24. ANNA, born March 18, 1746, died August 27, 1818, married January 19, 1763, David Davis, born May 6, 1737, died March 10, 1825, son of David and Phoebe Davis. For part record of their descendants see the Ancestors of James Wilson Yates and his wife Nancy Davis Terry, by Josephine C. Frost.
25. JABEZ, born according to gravestone at Selden, Brookhaven, New York, in 1746, probably twin with Anna; died December 23, 1810. He married in 1781 by a license dated July 29, 1781 to Ruth Davis who died February 3, 1832. They had one surviving child
 - i. Ruth^e who died at Coram, Brookhaven, New York, November 7, 1864, aged 77 years, 5 months and 9 days. She married January 14, 1807, Samuel Davis, son of Samuel and Joanna Davis of Brookhaven, born November 27, 1786, died September 21, 1837. Numerous descendants.
26. ELIZABETH, born about 1748, married Captain Nathaniel Norton, son of Nathaniel Norton.
27. TABITHA, baptised in the First Presbyterian Church in Smithtown, New York, February 6, 1751, married Jonas Davis of Brookhaven who died July 16, 1794, aged 49 years, 8 months and 13 days. The inscription on Tabitha's gravestone calls her formerly wife of Jonas Davis and late wife of Richard Robinson, and states that she died February 9, 1819. Her Davis children included:
 - i. Jonas^s, b. March 4, 1776, died June 21, 1812; his wife Sabra died October 24, 1802, and his widow Elizabeth died April 27, 1854.
 - ii. Elizabeth.
 - iii. Tabitha, married George Mills.
 - iv. Sybil.
 - v. Charity.
 - vi. Anna, died October 3, 1785.
28. TIMOTHY, born say about 1760. At this point there is a gap in the years between birthdates, and we believe there may have been children of the senior Timothy who died young. He is probably the Timothy Norton mentioned in the census of 1790. He married, possibly as his second wife, Polly Hutchinson of Southold, September 11, 1794. Issue not traced.

29. BRYAN, born in 1761, died at Middle Island, New York, September 2, 1845, aged 84. His first wife was Mary, traditionally a Davis, who died May 10, 1795, aged 27 years, 7 months and 3 days. He married 2, his cousin Esther Bennett, descended of Joseph and Elizabeth (Bryan) Bennett, and who died May 23, 1836, aged 76 years, 9 months and 14 days; married 3, Elizabeth, maiden name unreported, who died February 25, 1843, aged 73 years, 11 months and 8 days. He was reputed to have been the wealthiest and stingiest man in Suffolk County. This tradition of niggardliness is discredited to the extent that he is known to have provided for his niece Naomi, daughter of his sister Thankful. His children were, the first two by the first wife, the third by a wife not determined:
- i. Richard^o, born at Brookhaven, New York, April 30, 1783, died October 3, 1831. He married March 12, 1806, Sarah Corey, born April 29, 1787, died February 26, 1872, daughter of Isaac Corey. Numerous descendants.
 - ii. Bryant Davis, born February 21, 1790 at Selden, New York, died February 26, 1871; married Nancy Davis, born July 7, 1793, died April 1, 1870. Numerous descendants.
 - iii. James, who married Charity Davis, daughter of Goldsmith and Frances Davis. Issue. Probably other children.
30. THANKFUL, born about 1764, died in 1784 or shortly thereafter. According to family records of the late Professor James Furman Kemp and of Mrs. Jacob Louis Valentine, she had a daughter
- i. Naomi^o, who married John Hulse of Bald Hills, son of the third John Hulse, descendant of Richard Hulse of Brookhaven. Ancestors of the writer.

The father of Naomi is traditionally reported to have been a French naval officer, and in the service of D'Estaing's fleet which brought the army of Rochambeau to the United States during the War of the American Revolution. One ship of this fleet, le Neptune, was sent to forage for provisions and made excursions to the north shore of Long Island; and its pilot ensign, Jean Douville, was well acquainted with Long Island waters. He was obviously familiar with both French and English, as he is found resident in New York City after 1791; and we believe that he was the father of Naomi.

II. The Alleged English Ancestry of George Norton

In December of 1856 Albert B. Norton of Washington, D. C. published a small brochure entitled Descendants and Ancestors of Charles Norton of Guilford, Connecticut. After disposing of the descendants of Charles, he adds on page 6 a tabulation of the Norton family supposed to establish the English connections of this ancestor, and to provide the transatlantic antecedents for a number of New England immigrant Nortons as well. This pedigree is probably a product of the investigations of the late Lewis M. Norton of Goshen, Connecticut, who in 1841 made a transcription from a much older but less complete chart, and appended to his copy his opinion (for such it seems to have been) of the ancestry of those immigrant Nortons not otherwise found.

This older pedigree is obviously the one published in The New England Historical and Genealogical Register, vol. 13 (1859), p. 225, under the title "The Norton Family" and under the subscript of W. H. Whitmore. The original document at that date was in possession of Charles Eliot Norton of Cambridge, Massachusetts, and is held to have been brought to this country by the Reverend John Norton of Ipswich. It gives the ancestry of the Reverend Norton and his brother, Mr. William Norton, and traces it to a family which held the Manor of Sharpenhoe in Bedfordshire from 1578 to 1646, and which was settled as tenants of that Manor for at least one hundred years before.

In the chart as published by Albert B. Norton, George Norton of Salem is given as the son of Thomas Norton, in turn son of a William Norton; the latter proves to have been a brother of Thomas Norton, supposed second lord of the Manor of Sharpenhoe of his name, a poet, son-in-law of Archbishop Cranmer, and Remembrancer of the City of London. The earlier generations of the family are denominated the Seigneurs de Norvile, and their alliances apparently attached them to some of the most gaudy heraldry in England, not to mention the Royal house of Valois in France.

Albert B. Norton qualifies the connection of this George Norton as probable in giving the identifying details of members of the family. It becomes readily evident that he supposed the father of George Norton to have been Thomas Norton of Guilford, who married Grace Wells in Shelton parish, Bedfordshire, May 5, 1631. In the Register (as mentioned), vol. 53, at page 269 appears "The Descendants of Thomas Norton of Guilford, Connecticut," compiled by the Hon. R. D. Smith and communicated by Dr. Bernard C. Steiner. In this article, which shows a cautious approach, it is stated that Thomas Norton came to Guilford with the Rev. Mr. Whitfield in 1639, was a signer of the Plantation covenant and served the town as miller until his death in 1649. Mr. Smith makes no claim that George Norton was related, as a son or otherwise, to Thomas Norton; and Guilford records show nothing different.

If George Norton was a son of Thomas Norton, he must have been born of a first wife, for he was in Salem in 1629; the 1631 marriage of Grace Wells to Thomas Norton is known definitely to relate to the Guilford immigrant, as we shall show presently. It is usually claimed that Thomas was born in 1582 (for which allegation there is thus far absolutely no proof). This, of course, allows him to marry a putative first wife about 1605 and to have a son old enough to come to Salem ten years before he came himself to Guilford. Such a connection requires several assumptions to support a line which at best is considered only "probable." These are (1) that Thomas Norton was born at a sufficiently early date to be father of George Norton; (2) that he married a first wife, supposed to be mother of George; and (3) that he did have a son George. Investigation supports none of these assumptions.

Virkus in his Compendium of American Genealogy, vol. 5, page 420, prints the pedigree of Mrs. Edward A. Perry of Oak Bluffs, Massachusetts, and, ignoring Mr. Albert B. Norton's implied connection for George Norton, states that the latter is said to have been son of Robert of Bedfordshire, England. This Robert of Bedfordshire is identified as having been the one of "Marketcell" (Markyate-Celi), near Dunstable, and signed a Visitation pedigree in 1634, wherein he stated that his children were Thomas, Robert, Thomas, Richard, George, Anna and Elizabeth. In the registers of the parish church of Streatley, Beds., baptismal entries of four of the children are listed:

Thomas, baptised December 13, 1605, buried December 20, 1605.

Robert, baptised December 2, 1606.

Anna, baptised October 10, 1608.

Thomas, baptised September 15, 1609.

The pedigree shows the children numbered in order, which requires that the next son, Richard, would have been born after 1609, say about 1611, and that George would follow about 1613. Two difficulties become evident at once. First, this George is too young to have been the carpenter of Salem (he would have been reasonably only an apprentice at this age); second, the pedigree enumerates George five years after his supposed departure without any qualification, and this does not support any contention that this individual had left his father's rooftree.

These baptisms quoted above do give us, however, the very probable ancestry of Thomas Norton of Guilford. A careful study of the Norton entries extracted from the parish registers and published in Page-Turner's Genealogia Bedfordiensis shows us that the Thomas who married Grace Wells was of the vicinity of Dunstable. It shows further that earlier American genealogists who have studied this line have confused this Thomas with another, who was a resident of Ockley, County Surrey and who married Judith Howell in 1637. This Thomas of Ockley is unrelated to the Guilford line. At this point The Rockwell Family in America, by Henry Ensign Rockwell, comes to our aid. At pages 190 and 192 it reports a very old manuscript written in 1731 by a grandson of Thomas Norton of Guilford, which specifically calls the latter's wife Grace Wells. In view of the fact that confirmation of this marriage comes from a completely unassociated source (Genealogia Bedfordiensis) a considerable number of years later, there can be no question that this is the Thomas found in Bedfordshire.

The only family which the present writer finds resident near Dunstable during this time is that of Robert Norton, cited above. He was the son of Thomas Norton, lord of the Manor of Sharpenhoe, by his second wife Alice Cranmer; was without much question the Robert Norton who with Richard and George Norton and others bought land in Maine (see further); and whose brother Lieutenant-Colonel Walter Norton actually settled in Maine. The son Thomas baptised October 10, 1608 is, in this writer's opinion, the one who married Grace Wells in 1631, and emigrated about 1639, about five years after his father signed the pedigree entered in the Heralds' College.

It becomes necessary to dispose of Thomas, the son of William who allegedly was born in 1582 and who hitherto is stated to have come to Guilford. An examination of the registers of Barton-le-Clay, very near to Sharpenhoe, shows that the Thomas whose children were baptised in that place beginning with 1595 is probably the eldest son of William Norton and Dionys Cholmondeley, his second wife. He was born obviously much earlier than has been generally supposed, probably about 1573; and the names of his children and those of others in the registers reflect the foregoing connection.

Granting that these connections are correct, it becomes manifestly impossible for George Norton to have been a son of the Thomas born in 1608, or of his father, Robert Norton.

The Register (cf), vol. 39, at page 26 quotes a MS. state document of the colony as follows:

2 Dec. 1631.—Among the 13 grantees of 12,000 acres on the East of the River Agamenticus, the residences are given of Ferdinando Gorges, son and heir of John Gorges, Esq. of London, Robert Norton, Esq., Richard Norton, gent., George Norton, of Sharpenhow, County Bedford, Robert Rainsford, the younger, Seth Bull and John Bull, his son, and Dixie Bull, of London.

The George Norton of Sharpenhoe who held a grant of land in Maine has not been found. As both Robert and Richard Norton are without much question of the Sharpenhoe family, and were born in the period between 1575 and 1600, it may be supposed that this George Norton was born during the same period. It is very definite, however, that he was not son of Thomas Norton and Alice Cranmer. Possibly he was a son of Henry, eldest son of Thomas, who had a first wife Elizabeth and at least one son named Samuel, hitherto unreported, and who died in 1613. This man consequently could not be father of George Norton of Salem, Massachusetts, and certainly was not identical with him, for George of Salem was there two years before the George of Sharpenhoe was recorded.

The Planters of the Commonwealth, by Charles Edward Banks, 1930, at p. 63 states that six ships whose names were unidentified brought three hundred and fifty passengers to Boston in 1629; they had sailed from Gravesend near London. In this company were Lieutenant-Colonel Walter Norton, son of Thomas and Alice (Cranmer) Norton, George Norton of Salem and a John Norton. This John Norton is not to be identified with the Reverend John Norton of Ipswich; Banks on p. 171 of the same work states that the latter sailed in the Defense of London, Edward Bostock, Master, in 1635. It is possible that John Norton of Branford was the one who came in 1629 with George and Walter. John, if the one of Branford, has been presumed a son of Richard Norton of Sharpshoe and London by his first wife Ellen Rowley. Unfortunately for this presumption, John son of Richard was born in 1628, making him very young in any case to have been the Branford colonist.

A cursory examination of the list of those who came in these six ships shows that the great majority of the immigrants bear names which are readily found in the counties near London. On the strength of this, one would look first for the ancestry of George Norton in this vicinity. It is entirely logical to develop the connections of the Bedford family of Norton in the hope that relationship to George Norton might be found; this hope is reinforced by the facts that four members of this family and probably one other came to New England, and that George is a given name appearing in the family. At the same time we have found suggestive indications in the Halesworth, Suffolk, family of Norton, as well as in the family of Shropshire, a member of which, George Norton, appears on Bristol lists as emigrating to America some time after 1653.

In the Victoria County History of Bedfordshire, vol. II, page 363, with reference to the descent of the Manor of Norwood in Luton, Flitt Hundred, appears the following:

A property called NORWOOD MANOR was held by Thomas Rotherham in 1504, and by his son Thomas in 1565. In 1573 Thomas Catesby alienated Stopsley Manor, together with Norwood, to Sir George Norton, but no further reference has been found to the property.

Endeavors to locate this Sir George Norton elsewhere have been fruitless thus far. Both Sharpshoe and Luton are in Flitt Hundred, and Sir George Norton may have been connected with the Sharpshoe family. Later in Luton we find a John Norton, who was buried October 30, 1631, and who may have been a son of this Sir George. The parish registers of Luton give the baptisms of three children of John Norton, presumably this one:

1. John, baptised May 18, 1605, probably the one who married Alice ———, and who had

- i. Joane, baptised January 24, 1634.
- ii. Agnes, baptised March 29, 1641.
2. Jonas (according to the Bishops' Transcripts; James, according to Blaydes), baptised December 7, 1607, buried January 17, 1608.
3. George, baptised July 8, 1610.

It is quite possible that this last baptism is that of George Norton of Salem, although nothing conclusive has been found. We have not been able to allocate him to any place in the pedigree of the Sharpenhoe family, and except for information which may be in the hands of parties who have not disclosed it, we have seen no competent proof of his ancestry. *It has not been established from the references to which we have had access.

* Since this was written we have found the probable source of information which was responsible for the opinion of Lewis M. Norton as referred to on page 201. In the library of the New England Historic Genealogical Society there is a typewritten copy made in 1895 of a manuscript book compiled before April 9, 1859 by Daniel Norton of North Canaan, Connecticut, a descendant of George Norton of Salem. This manuscript book was copied for Adaline E. Talcott Emerson, daughter of Elizabeth Anna Norton Talcott, and granddaughter of Dr. Ariel Norton, brother of the said Daniel Norton.

It is clearly evident from the arguments presented in the manuscript that this was, without doubt, the foundation upon which claims made for the ancestry of George Norton have rested. Yet Lewis M. Norton never claimed that he had proved this connection as a letter in this MS. from him shows, which we quote:

Goshen, Ct. March 6, 1858

Mr. Daniel Norton, Dear sir

As I have given you reason to expect from me some account of the posterity of George Norton Emigrant to Salem, Mass., in 1629, I am about to proceed to do so. It is a large field, but a very desirable one, inasmuch as we have reason to believe the first pair to have been among the meek and lowly followers of the precious Saviour; and in connection therewith that a large proportion of their very numerous posterity have been by grace made partakers with them of the same inheritance. I regret that I have not at the time positive proof concerning the relationship of this man to the other Norton emigrants to this country. Should anything on that subject appear at any future time, it can be inserted. Hoping that these labours may tend to promote the knowledge of relationships between the different members of the same great family; and thus be in some degree useful when we shall have passed away, I subscribe myself,

Yours in Christian bonds,
Lewis M. Norton

The italics are his. The MS. then presents certain arguments which attempt to identify Francis Norton of Milford as the one of Piscataqua, and to apply the known cousinship (so-called) of Francis of Milford and John of Branford in a pedigree which likewise embraces the descendants of Thomas of Guilford and George of Salem. That part of his case which relates to George Norton, we quote:

In June 1833, Dea. Oliver Norton of Langerfield, N. Y. then in his 77th year, was at my house and told me (as my memorandum made at that time shows) that he used to hear it said, that two brothers of the name of Norton came over from England; that one settled in Connecticut and one in Massachusetts.

Mr. Andrew Norton of Goshen (a younger brother of Dea. Oliver) afterwards told me that he always understood that three brothers came over; that two of these settled in Connecticut and one in Massachusetts Andrew Norton had an unusually vigorous mind and memory. He was born August 7, 1765, and died here in 1838.

. The statement of Dea. Oliver Norton could not have been wholly true in the family from which he descended, Thomas Norton of Guilford; that from his brother Andrew Norton is entitled to consideration.

Now admitting that all traditions of this kind are to be received with great caution—still the impression will remain in our minds, that there must be a great probability that Thomas Norton of Guilford had a son who settled in Massachusetts.

In addition to the above, the following will be seen to have an important bearing on this subject. Mr. Ambrose Norton now living (1858) on Chestnut Hill in Litchfield—formerly a wagonmaker—born at Roxbury, Ct. Dec. 2, 1781, was a son of George Norton of that place. He, George, was a son of George Norton who emigrated from Suffield to Roxbury about 1758, and had a large family. He was born at Suffield Sept. 13, 1724 I have had many conversations with this Ambrose Norton who is considered a reliable man. He states that all along in his youth, and in his father's family, they were familiarly acquainted with a certain manuscript book, which was called "A history of the Nortons who settled in Massachusetts." Ambrose always understood that this book was given to his father by his grandfather before his death in 1776 or 7. Ambrose was familiar with it up to the time of his marriage, in 1800, and to some extent afterwards.

He (Ambrose) became established in his trade on Litchfield Hill and his father George remained at Roxbury, and married a second wife. He died there June, 1830. Before his death he said to Ambrose, "I give you this book of the Nortons." After the death of this George, the book was sold by the widow (as she herself stated) to a stranger, who called himself a Norton—or a Doctor Norton; since which time the book has not been heard of. Mr. Norton has frequently described this book to me as follows: It was made of coarse English paper Quarto, sewed together, not bound, and containing some 50 to 100 pages more or less. It had an ancient appearance, and was evidently a record of families. The entries were made by different persons, some in a beautiful handwriting, others not so good.

Mr. Norton has stated to me several times, that according to his best recollection this book stated—that two brothers came over, and one Cousin, that one of these was John, a minister.

Besides Rev. John Norton and his brother William Norton there were but two men in Massachusetts in that early time to which this description could apply (sic!), to wit—George Norton of Salem and Francis of Piscataqua who removed to Charlestown, Mass. But it is to be kept in mind that this book came down in the line of George Norton of Salem 1629,—for it is certain that this emigrant was the grandfather of the George who emigrated from Suffield to Roxbury. This cousin could be no other than George the emigrant 1629,—and the two brothers, none other than the Rev. John Norton and William his brother. It is therefore proved (?sic) that this George was a Collateral relative more distant than a brother, of Rev. John and William Norton.

The only suggestion which we make in keeping with the above is that if George Norton of Salem was a son of John Norton of Luton, it is possible that the latter was a son of William Norton (hereafter discussed) by his second wife Dionys Cholmondeley. This would make the Rev. John and Mr. William Norton half-cousins to George Norton.

However, in the will of the Rev. John Norton, no mention is made of such a relationship. The abstract of his will is printed in the New England Historical and Genealogical Register, vol. 11, p. 342; it mentions his brother William of Ipswich, his ever endeared and honored mother (not by name); his brother Thomas of London, sisters Mrs. Martha Wood, Mrs. Meary (Mary) Young, Mrs. Elizabeth Norton (probably not married); his wife Mrs. Mary Norton; and mentions the sons of his brother William. The will was signed January 14, 1661, and the witnesses deposed on June 12, 1662, and April 16, 1663.

Since this will does not mention any cousins, it supports no case for the relationship of George Norton. Furthermore, it seems reasonable to indicate that John, son of William Norton, was the one buried November 20, 1632 at Streatley, Bedfordshire, and if this is true, he could not have been the John who (as father of the George baptised at Luton in 1610) was buried at the latter place October 30, 1631. The main issue, however, is to prove the ancestry of George Norton; and this has not been done.

[The third chapter of the Norton article, setting forth the pedigree of the Nortons of Sharpentoe, Beds, will appear in an early issue.]

JONATHAN GILLETT OF DORCHESTER, MASS., AND WINDSOR, CONN., AND MARY DOLBERE OR DOLBIAR, HIS WIFE

By JOHN INSLEY CODDINGTON, M.A., of Cambridge, Mass.

The Parish Register of St. Andrew's Church at Colyton, co. Devon,* contains the following marriage record:

1634 Jonathan Gillett & Mary Dolbiar, 29 March.

This is the answer to the question of the long-sought identity of Mary, wife of Jonathan¹ Gillett, the emigrant from England to Dorchester, Mass., and settler at Windsor, Conn.

There can be very little doubt but that Jonathan Gillett was a son of the Reverend William Gillett or Gyllett, Rector of Chaffcombe, co. Somerset, who was instituted to that benefice 4 Feb. 1609/10,† and who died early in 1641, before 2 April, when the inventory of his estate‡ was taken by Thomas Palmer and Lawrence Sely, two of his parishioners. An abstract of the will of the Rev. William Gillett has already been printed.§ It was dated 1641, and proved in the Archdeaconry Court at Taunton 16 April 1641. The testator mentioned his sons William, Thomas, Nathan and Jeremiah, his daughters Habiah (Abiah) and Mary, and his brother Richard. He said "to all my children in England I give two silver spoones apiece," and this phrase probably meant that he had other children, unmentioned, who were not in England in 1641, and to whom he had presumably given their portions when they left home. Concerning his son Nathan, he said "The land which my son Nathan made over to me by letter of Attorney, my son William, the next reversioner of said land, shall surrender his estate (therein)," etc. This is the only mention of Nathan, and implies that he was one of the children who were not in England when the will was made, and that he had made the land over to his father by letter of attorney after he had left England.

† Frederic William Weaver, Somerset Incumbents (Bristol, 1889), p. 327. Weaver states that Gillett's name was Edward, but this is clearly a mistake for William. His successor, Peter Cox, A.M., was instituted Rector of Chaffcombe 24 March 1642.

‡ "A true and p'fect inventory of all the goods and chattells moveable and unmoveable of William Gyllett rector of Chafcombe deceased" printed in full in Somerset & Dorset Notes & Queries, vol. 17 (1921-23), pp. 121-2. The estate was worth £259 14s. 8d., which included £13 6s. 8d. for silver plate and an equal sum for books.

§ New York Genealogical & Biographical Record, vol. 41 (1910), pp. 282-3. Wills communicated by J. Henry Lea and J. R. Hutchinson.

It is certain that the Rector of Chaffcombe had a son named Elias, who was not mentioned in the will, even though he was an Oxford graduate, and presumably a credit to the family;* and it seems practically certain that Jonathan Gillett of Dorchester and Windsor was also his son. Absolute proof of the connection is difficult to find, however, since the Parish Registers of Chaffcombe before 1678 are lost,† and the early Bishops' Transcripts at Wells, which have been printed by Dwelly, exist only for the years 1599, 1623 and 1638.‡

Nathan and Jonathan Gillett, the brothers who migrated to New England, gave several of their children names reminiscent of the Gillett family of Chaffcombe. Nathan had a daughter Abiah and a son Elias, while Jonathan had a son Jeremiah. The use of these rather unusual names by the Gilletts of New England affords additional evidence of their connection with Chaffcombe.

Nathan and Jonathan Gillett probably came to New England on the Mary and John, though their names are not in the (incomplete) passenger list of that vessel. The passengers on the Mary and John were a company of Puritans from the west of England, gathered together by the Rev. John Warham and the Rev. John Maverick. The ship sailed from Plymouth 20 March 1630, and arrived off Nantasket 30 May 1630. The passengers all settled at Mattapan, which was renamed Dorchester. Nathan Gillett became a freeman of Massachusetts Bay in 1634, and in 1636 he was a member of Warham's flock that migrated to Windsor, Conn. He served in the Pequot War in 1637, and lived at Windsor till 1670, when he removed to Simsbury, Conn., where he died about 1688, having had issue, Elizabeth, Abiah, Rebecca, Elias, Sarah, Benjamin, Nathan and Rebecca.

The career of Jonathan Gillett was somewhat more complicated. He came to New England as a bachelor in 1630, but not long thereafter he must have returned to England for a short stay, during which he was married. The wedding took place at Colyton, co. Devon, 29 March 1634, and the bride was Mary Dolbere or Dolbiar, who was baptized at Colyton 7 June 1607. She was the daughter of Rawkey, Rockye, Rokey, Rokie, Roky or Rochee Dolbere or Dolbiar, yeoman, of the hamlet of Cadhayne in the parish of Colyton, and of Mary (Michell or Mychell) his wife. It is interesting to speculate whether Jonathan and Mary were betrothed before Jonathan's first trip to America, or whether the marriage in 1634 was arranged on the spur of the moment. At all events, the bride and groom sailed for New England soon after the wedding. In his account of the Gillett family in the History of Ancient Windsor,* Stiles says: "There is still extant, in the possession of a Windsor family, a copy of the Geneva edition of the Bible, of 1599, commonly known as the 'Breeches Bible' because the fig-leaf garment made by our first parents in the Garden of Eden, and which in the King James's version is called apron, is herein given as breeches. This Bible was brought to New England by this Jonathan Gillett, Sr. In this Bible occurs the following manuscript record: 'My father Gille[tt] came into new-inglan the secon[d] time in June in the yeare 1634 and Jonathan his sonne was born about half a yeare aftur he cam to land'" (The italics are Stiles's).

* Alumni Ozonienses 1500-1714, ed. by Joseph Foster (Oxford, 1891), vol. 2, p. 568:—"Gillett, Elias, s. of William, of Chaffcombe, Somerset, sacerdos. [clergyman]. New Inn Hall, matriculated 7 May 1632, aged 20; B.A. 7 June 1632; M.A. 23 April 1635." Elias was probably also a clergyman, but Foster must be wrong in saying that he succeeded his father as Rector of Chaffcombe in 1641, as this conflicts with Weaver's statement that William Gillett's successor was Peter Cox (see above). At all events, Elias Gillett was in all probability the father of another Rev. Elias Gillett, of Christ Church College, Oxford, ordained deacon 19 Sept. 1675, and priest 20 Dec. 1679, and instituted Rector of Misterton, co. Somerset, 15 Feb. 1680/1, for whom see Somerset & Dorset Notes & Queries, vol. 7 (1900-1), pp. 41, 69; and Weaver, Somerset Incumbents, p. 402. The second Rev. Elias Gillett d. in 1703, and was the father of another clergyman, William Gillett, who matriculated at Wadham College, Oxford, 7 March 1703/4, aged 18; B.A. 1707; M.A. 1712, for whom see Alumni Ozonienses 1500-1714, vol. 2, p. 568.

This evidence shows that Jonathan Gillett came to New England on his first trip in 1630 merely to "spy out the land," and, having found the land good, he returned to Europe to acquire a helpmate, and with her, he came "the second time" in the spring of 1634. He was made a freeman of Massachusetts Bay, 6 May 1635, and the following notices of him appear in the Dorchester Town Records:

"It is graunted to Jonathan Gillett to fence in halfe an acre of ground about his house, leaving sufficient highway" (17 April 1635).

"In consideration whereof the foresayd p'tyes do p'mise to fetch all the Cowes from Jonathan Gilletts house to m^r Woolcotts and to drive them forth in the morneing an hower after sun rising. . ." (17 April 1635).

(Among those who are to have meadow land in the marsh by Goodman Greenway's) Jelletts, 2 acres (27 June 1636).†

Jonathan Gillett and his family removed with the Rev. John Warham from Dorchester to the new settlement at Windsor on the Connecticut River, in the latter part of 1636. He was granted a lot at Windsor, 17 rods wide, near Mr. Warham's. Jonathan Gillett died at Windsor 23 Aug. 1677. His will, dated 8 Aug. 1677, was proved 6 Sept. 1677.‡ His widow, Mary (Dolbere or Dolbiar) Gillett, died at Windsor 5 Jan. 1685/6.

She was b. at Branford 29 April 1657, and d. at Colchester 23 Jan. 1735/6. Eleven children.

The subsequent history of the Gillett family is set forth in Stiles's Ancient Windsor, vol. 2, pp. 289-300, and in an article compiled by Salmon Cone Gillette of Colchester, Conn., and arranged and enlarged by the Rev. Henry Clay Alvord, Pastor of the Old South Church at South Weymouth, Mass. This article appeared in the New England Historical and Genealogical Register, vol. 47 (1893), pp. 168-177.

The chief purpose of the present paper is to establish the genealogical background of Mary Dolbere or Dolbiar, wife of Jonathan Gillett, the emigrant. For this reason, there follow extracts from the Parish Registers of Colyton, co. Devon, relating to the Dolbere-Dolbiar family; a short pedigree of that family, based on the information gleaned from the Parish Registers; entries in the Parish Registers relating to the family of Michell or Mychell of Colyton, to which the mother of Mary Dolbere belonged; and a pedigree of that family. It has been unfortunately necessary to rely solely on the Parish Registers of Colyton for the data used in constructing the pedigrees. Colyton was situated in the peculiar jurisdiction of the Court of the Dean and Chapter of Exeter, and therefore wills made by Colyton people are not calendared in the Index Library's Devonshire Wills and Administrations.†

Dolbere-Dolbiar Family of Colyton, co. Devon

1. ROBERT DOLBERE or DOLBIAR, yeoman, of the hamlet of Cadhayne in the parish of Colyton, co. Devon, m. (1) ———; m. (2) at Colyton, 26 April 1563, AGNES SAMPSON, of Hawkchurch, co. Dorset.† She was almost certainly a daughter of Nicholas Sampson, of Hawkchurch, and elder sister of Gregory and Edde Sampson.‡ The Hawkchurch Registers only begin

* The title "Sir" was applied not only to knights, but also to secular clergy before the Reformation. The Colyton Parish Register says of this man: "His will, dated 3 Jan. 1552/3, proved 6 May 1555 (D. & C., Exeter) by his sister, Beaton Dassell, executrix, mentions cousins Turling and Dassell. Sir Robert Wosley, curate, a witness." Beton Dassell was bur. at Colyton 9 Aug. 1555.

† The parish of Hawkchurch was in Dorset till 1886, when it was transferred to Devon by an Order in Council.

‡ The Colyton Registers contain the following marriage records:

- 1570 Gregorie Sampson, s. of Nycholas Sampson of Hawkchurche, & Alyce, d. of Nycholas Leslande, 3 July.
 1574 Thomas Atyeat, s. of John Atyeat of Colyford, & Edde, d. of Nycholas Sampson of Hawkchurche, 27 November.

in 1663, so that it has not yet been possible to prove this hypothesis, but it is noticeable that Robert and Agnes (Sampson) Dolbere named a son Nicholas. Agnes (Sampson) Dolbere was buried at Colyton 30 Oct. 1613, and Robert was buried there 25 Jan. 1614/5. He was a church-warden of Colyton in 1579.

His Christian name is a most singular one, and it is merely possible to hazard a guess that it may be a Devonshire variant of the French name Roch. He married at Colyton, 10 October 1602, MARY MICHELL, daughter of John Michell or Mychell, of Barretshayes in the parish of Colyton, co. Devon. She was baptized at Colyton 4 Dec. 1576, and for her family, see below. "Rokey Dolbiar" was buried at Colyton 12 Nov. 1641, and his widow Mary was buried there 20 Sept. 1648.

Michell-Mychell Family of Colyton, co. Devon

A pedigree of the earlier generations of the family of Michell or Mychell, who lived at various places in the parish of Colyton, co. Devon, is most difficult to construct, due chiefly to a superabundance of men named John in the family. It seems best, therefore, not to attempt to make a pedigree of the entire family, but to restrict the work to the immediate relatives of Mary (Michell) wife of Rokey Dolbere or Dolbiar. Even this pedigree must be regarded as tentative, owing to the absence of corroborative evidence.

1. JOHN MICHELL or MYCHELL, son of John Mychell "the younger," of the hamlet of Rockerhayne in the parish of Colyton, co. Devon, yeoman, was baptized at Colyton before 1538, unless there is a mistake in the transcript of the Parish Register. If there is such a mistake, and "elder" has been substituted for "younger" in the printed version, then he may have been baptized either 26 Sept. 1541, or 19 March 1544/5. His mother may, or may not, have been Agnes (Vye) Michell, daughter of Harry Vye of Cadhayne in the parish of Colyton. At all events, John was married at Colyton, 26 Nov. 1569, to EMLYN WEEKE, formerly of Gittisham, co. Devon. He and his wife lived first at Cadhayne, and this strengthens the opinion that his mother was a Vye of Cadhayne. His first three children, Johan, John and Mary, were baptized as children of "John Mychell of Cadden." For a while, he occupied the farm of Michinholme, very near Cadhayne, and his fourth child, Elizabeth, was baptized as the daughter of "John Mychell of Mynchenholme." This farm was occupied in 1605 by John Michell's son-in-law, Rokey Dolbere or Dolbiar, whose daughter Anne was born there that year. John Michell later removed to the hamlet of Barretshayes, and his younger children were baptized as the children of John Michell of Barretshayes. He was buried at Colyton, as "John Michell of Barretshaies," 2 June 1620, and his widow Emlyn (Weeke) Michell was buried at Colyton 30 Aug. 1628. John Michell was a church-warden of Colyton in 1596.

Children, baptized at Colyton:

- i. JOHAN or JOANE, bapt. 8 April 1571; m. at Colyton 20 Feb. 1597/8 WILLIAM STARR, of Seaton, co. Devon, son of John Starr, of the hamlet of Horriford in the parish of Seaton.

- iii. MARY, bapt. 4 Dec. 1576; m. at Colyton 10 Oct. 1602 RAWKEY, ROCKYE, ROKEY, ROKIE, ROKYE, or ROCHEE DOLBERE or DOLBIAR, of the hamlet of Cadhayne in the parish of Colyton, who was bapt. at Colyton 17 Aug. 1571, and was bur. there 12 Nov. 1641. She was bur. there 20 Sept. 1648. See above.

THE DESCENDANTS OF WILLIAM FIFIELD

By WALTER LEE SHEPPARD, JR., B.Chem., M.S., of Philadelphia, Pa.

The following article contains the first four generations of the William Fifield family. It is as complete as the author has been able to make it. Manuscript for the balance of the genealogy is in preparation, and the author would welcome any contributions.

Thanks for assistance on these four generations are due to several correspondents, but especially to Mrs. Mary Walton Ferris of Chicago whose interest and help have been of utmost importance in the completion of this work.

FIRST GENERATION

On 16 April 1634, WILLIAM FIFIELD took the Oath of Allegiance before embarking for America on the ship Hercules of London. This is the first mention we find of him in the records. All efforts to trace his birthplace have so far met with failure. On arriving in New England, he lived a time at Ipswich, then Newbury, finally settling in 1639 at Hampton, N. H., where he became a freeman 2 June 1641.

We have been unable to determine William's birth date. A variety of depositions give him "round number" ages from "about 40" to "about 85," and figured back from these his birth lies somewhere in the years 1614 to 1618. Similarly, his wife, Mary, is aged "about 50" in 1673, "about 56" in 1676, and in her 93d year when she died, 1711, placing her birth at 1619 to 1623, the first date being more likely correct.

William served on the jury 1651, '62, '67, '69, '77, '78; was constable in '62 and selectman in 1652 and 1659. His name appears often in the court records as attorney for others, and his signature is attached to many of the early documents of the town. Libby says of him, "The Quakers praised his humanity."

"Auld William Fifield—above 80" died 18 December 1700, after deeding his property to his sons. His wife, Mary, died 23 Nov. 1711 "in her 93rd year."

About 1652 a Giles Fifield appeared in Charlestown, married Mary Perkins, and subsequently removed to Hampton. That he was related to William seems probable, but what the relation might be remains a mystery. The Fifields of America are descended from one of these two men. However, Giles's descendants are comparatively few, and this article deals only with William's family.

He served on juries 1679, '83, '93; constable '98, '99; selectman '87; representative '97; clerk of company '99. He was killed by Indians 1 Aug. 1706 "and a lad his kinsman carried away." (This record may refer to Stephen Fifield, No. 28.) Administration was granted on Benjamin's estate 3 Sept. 1706 to his youngest son, Jonathan. He married 28 Dec. 1670, Mary Colecord, who died in Hampton Falls 23 Nov. 1741, aged 93. She was the daughter of Edward Colecord and Ann (Wadd) of Dover.

THIRD GENERATION

11. JOHN FIFIELD, born 21 Nov. 1671, moved to Kingston. He married Abigail (perhaps a Bean or a Sleeper) having by her his first two children. She died and he married (2) about 1709, Martha Andrews, born 25 Dec. 1673. She was a daughter of Thomas and Martha (Baker) (Antrim) Andrews and a granddaughter of Robert Andrews of Ipswich and Rowley, Mass. By her he had his next two children. She died 12 May 1716 and he married (3) 16 Aug. 1716, Mary Webster, born 19 May 1696. She was the daughter of Thomas and Sarah Webster of Kingston and granddaughter of Thomas Webster and Sarah (Brewer). John lived at Kingston and died there about 1750. He is called Ensign.

Children (by Abigail):

59. Elizabeth, b. 25 Nov. 1698.

(Vital Records at Concord do not agree entirely with above dates, but the above dates were taken from the original records and should be given preference.) 13. MARY FIFIELD. It seems certain from deeds between the brothers Fifield and Daniel² Bean and his children (see Reunion of the Bean Family, third and fourth Reunions), that Daniel² Bean married a daughter of Benjamin Fifield and a sister of John, Joseph, Edward, Benjamin and Jonathan. The Kingston saw mill, Benjamin senior's property, is left in eight shares, one of which goes to Daniel Bean. Note that Benjamin had nine children, one of whom, Shuah, died in 1683. This accounts for the division of the saw mill. Daniel Bean's wife was a Mary. From this we deduce that Benjamin's child, born 3 May 1676, unnamed in the record, was Mary Fifield.

Mary Fifield married Daniel Bean (John) of Exeter, born 23 Mar. 1663 at Exeter, died between 4 March and 27 May 1718. On the former date he executed a deed and on the latter, his sons in a deed refer to him as dead. He may have married twice as in a deed of 3 Sept. 1711 he refers to "Mary, now my wife." At all events, his wife probably died before him. On 3 May 1717, he conveyed his one-eighth of the Kingston saw mill to his son Daniel.

Children (Bean) (there may have been others):

- 71. Daniel.
- 72. John.
- 73. Samuel.
- 74. Mary.

- 75. Shuah, b. 13 Mar. 1703, bapt. Hampton 1 June 1707.

17. JONATHAN FIFIELD married 15 Jan. (Libby says July) 1723, Hannah Waite, prob. born 17 Jan. 1682, daughter of Thomas and Susan (Ayres) of Ipswich. He died without surviving issue. He lived on the Hampton Falls property which he inherited from his father, Benjamin. He was guardian of his nephew, Paul Sanborn (No. 91). Libby says "much trusted with probate business by his relations and by bro.-in-law Weare, Judge of Probate." His will was dated 9 Jan. 1771 and proved 30 Apr. 1777. By it he left his property, including the Fifield homestead, to his "kinsman Jonathan Fifield Esq. who now lives with me, he paying to my kinsman Jonathan Sanborn son of Paul Sanborn who formerly lived with me £5 lawful money." Brown, in his "History of Hampton Falls," gives George Fifield (No. 288) as his son, and as receiving the Fifield estate on Jonathan's death. This theory is shown false by Jonathan's will. Jonathan Jr. (No. 84), nephew of Jonathan and son of Edward, received the property and passed it on after two years to George who was his son. Mr. Brown in missing these two wills has confused the issue.

18. MEHITABLE FIFIELD, born 9 Nov. 1687, married (1) 1 Jan. 1707, John Sanborn (John, John). He lived at Hampton, and removed about 1725 to Kingston. (Lines carried further in Sanborn Genealogy.) After his death she married (2) Jacob Morrell.

19. ABIGAIL FIFIELD married (intention 30 Dec. 1715) Humphrey Holt (Henry, Nicholas) born Andover, Mass., 22 Sept. 1693, died 8 Aug. 1754 "in 61 yr." She died 15 Apr. 1808 according to Holt Genealogy, which date is obviously incorrect. (Lines 94, 97, 98, continued in Holt Genealogy.)

Children (Holt):

- 94. Fifield, b. 28 July 1717.
- 95. Annie, d. 8 Oct. 1741.

26. SAMUEL FIFIELD. Dow in his "History of Hampton" gives the baptism of a Mercy Fifield, daughter of Samuel, on 31 Aug. 1735, and suggests that this is Samuel, No. 26. The only other Samuel known is No. 76. He might have been the father of Mercy, but this seems unlikely since all his known children were baptised at Kingston. Also Mercy is not mentioned in his will. We assume, therefore, that No. 26 is Mercy's father. He may also be the father of Dorothy Fifield who married John Fifield, Jr. (No. 60).

Possible children:

- 112. Jonathan, prob. of Weare, N. H., 1749, Moderator etc. 1750-4.
A Jane Fifield died 1813 ae. 98, at Weare. She may have been his wife. I have been unable to reconcile this Jonathan with any other known Jonathans.

27. MARY FIFIELD. A Mary W. Fifield, according to the Dudley Genealogy, married John Whipple and was the mother of Ebenezer Whipple who was born 14 Sept. 1713 and married 1737 Prudence Sutton. I have found no more about this Mary, and I do not find her marriage date, but she may be No. 27. This is the only place I have been able to assign her in the Fifield tree. I have also been unable to place her as a Fifield widow.

THE WIFE OF EDMUND RICE

Contributed by MARY LOVERING HOLMAN, of Watertown, Mass.

The writer published an article in The American Genealogist, vol. 10, pp. 133-137, in which records pertaining to the family of Edmund Rice of Sudbury, Mass., from English sources, first appeared in print. It was there suggested as likely that his wife Thomasine was Thomasine Frost, daughter of Edward Frost, clothier, of Stanstead, Suffolk, who was baptized in that parish on 11 Aug. 1600. Confirmation of this has been found in the Marriage Register of St. Mary's, Bury, Suffolk:

October

Edmunde Rise & Thomasin Frost — 15

Thus we learn that Edmund Rice and Thomasine Frost were married 15 Oct. 1618. Their first child, as already known, was baptized at Stanstead, 23 Aug. 1619.

Bearing on the question of the social status of Edmund Rice and certain exalted but unsubstantiated claims which have been made (see The American Genealogist, vol. 11, pp. 14-21), the following item from Middlesex County Probate Records indicates that while his contemporaries respected his judgment, they were ignorant of any pretension to rank on his part:

JOHN SAYLES OF PROVIDENCE

By G. ANDREWS MORIARTY, A.M., LL.B., F.S.A.

It is a somewhat remarkable fact that, although the first John Sayles of Providence married Mary, the eldest daughter of Roger Williams, and although their descendants for the last seventy or eighty years have been numbered among the "Industrial Barons" of Providence and Pawtucket, but scanty attention has been paid to the family history. The most complete account known to me (although something may have been printed upon the family in some one of the numerous genealogical magazines which I have not seen), is the brief account of the early generations in Austin's Genealogical Dictionary of Rhode Island. In this short monograph I propose to discuss the question of the origin of the first John of Providence, as given in Austin.

John Sayles, ancestor of the Rhode Island family, was in Providence as early as January 27, 1650/1, as Austin points out, when he bought a house in Providence of John Throckmorton. He married, about this time, Mary, eldest daughter of Roger Williams (born at Plymouth in August 1633). This marriage is not recorded, but there can be no doubt as to her identity, as on 24 June 1670 John Sayles of Providence sold to Stephen Arnold one fifth of a little island in the Pautuxet and states that he "had no deed of gift from my father-in-law, Mr. Roger Williams, who gave it to me" (Providence Deeds, Bk. I, p. 241), and on 23 Jan. 1693/4 his son, John Sayles, had laid out to him 35 acres, "which said land he had from his grandfather, Mr. Roger Williams" (Austin Gen. Dict. of R. I., p. 370). Mary, the eldest child of John and Mary (Williams) Sayles, was born at Providence on 11 July 1652, so we may conclude that the marriage took place in the Summer of 1651. John Sayles was made an Assistant of the Providence and Warwick Colony in 1653 and again in 1655, and from '57 to '59 (Austin, op. cit.; R. I. Col. Rec., I). In view of the fact that he was then a very young man, we may conclude that he owed his election to this high office to the fact that he was the son-in-law of Mr. Williams. When Providence was burned, in Philip's War, he, together with his wife, fled to Rhode Island, where he apparently lived with the Easton family in that part of Newport which is now Middletown. At any rate his wife and he were buried in the Easton burying ground near Sachuest Beach. His gravestone records that he died in 1681 (day and month not given) aged 48 years, while his wife is stated to have died the same year. On 7 May 1677 he was fined at Providence as "John Sayles Sr." for absence from the Grand Jury, and on 1 July 1679 "John Sayles his right" was taxed there (Austin, op. cit.). According to his death record he was born in 1633; but it is evident that his age was understated and that he was born about 1629-1631 and perhaps a little earlier.

He died intestate and there is no probate record of his estate, but the names of his children are obtained from other sources, chiefly the Providence Vital Records.

John and Mary (Williams) Sayles had the following children:

- i. MARY, born 11 July 1652; married 1st, at Warwick as "Mary Sayles, daughter of John of Providence," on 17 Dec. 1674, William Greene (R. I. Vital Rec., Arnold, I, 51); and 2ndly, John Holmes on 12 Oct. 1680. She had by Holmes daughters named Deborah and Phoebe.
- ii. JOHN, born 17 Aug. 1654, died 2 Aug. 1727; married Elizabeth, who died 2 Nov. 1699; and 2ndly, before 7 May 1705, Mary (Prov. Deeds, printed vol. 20, p. 42). He had a son Richard, born 24 Oct. 1695.
- iii. ISABEL, born about 1656, died after 1716; married 1st, John Tillinghast (born Sept. 1657); and 2ndly, Robert Hicks (Austin, op. cit.).
- iv. PHOEBE, born about 1658; married at Warwick as "Phoebe Sayles daughter of John of Providence," on 22 January 1684/5, Job Greene (R. I. Vital Rec., op. cit., I, 51). She had children named Deborah, Phoebe and Richard. Job was born on 27 Aug. 1656.
- v. ELEANOR, born 1671 (Austin), died 11 March 1713/4; married at Warwick as "Ellen Sayles daughter of John of Providence," on 16 Feb. 1692/3, Richard Greene, born 8 Feb. 1659/60 (R. I. Vital Rec., op. cit., I, 51).
- vi. CATHERINE, born 1671 (Austin); married at Providence, 28 Dec. 1692, William Olney, born 25 June 1663. They had children Deborah and Richard (Austin, op. cit.).

[It is to be noted that the above is not a complete list of the grandchildren of John and Mary (Williams) Sayles.]

Caleb Carr, son of Governor Caleb Carr of Jamestown, R. I., was born on 23 Aug. 1657. He married Deborah ———. Their first child was born on 4 Jan. 1680/1. Their youngest child was Sayles Carr, born 24 Nov. 1696 (Austin, op. cit., p. 37). For this reason Austin in his "Additions and Corrections" suggests that Deborah may have been another child of John and Mary (Williams) Sayles. This may well be so, but I am inclined to think otherwise.

All the above data may be found in Austin's Dictionary and Arnold's Vital Record. Turning now to the Providence records, we find that John Sayles was not the only person of the name early in Providence. On 19:11 mo.:1645 a John Sayles appears in the Providence records (Prov. Rec., Vol. II, p. 30). In view of the age of John, husband of Mary Williams, they can hardly be the same person. I would suggest that this last is an older man. On 1 Oct. 1663 Richard Sayles witnessed a deed of John Sayles (i.e. husband of Mary Williams), and in 1688 Richard Sayles, as well as John, son of John and Mary, was taxed at Providence (Providence printed records, I, 6, and XVII, 127-28).

I would suggest that the John Sayles of 1645 was the father of John Sayles (husband of Mary Williams) and of Richard Sayles. In this connection I would point out that the names of Richard and Deborah occur frequently among the grandchildren of John and Mary (Williams) Sayles; further that as it was the custom for a girl, who had no brothers, to give her family name, as a Christian one, to one of her children (cf. the account of the Sewell and Dudley families in Sewell's Diary), it seems probable that Deborah was the daughter of the Richard Sayles above noted.

Turning now to the Massachusetts records, we find that John Sayles joined the Charlestown Church in 1630. On 1 April 1633 the General Court found John Sayles guilty of stealing corn and fish. He was ordered to be soundly whipped, to forfeit his estate and to be bound to Mr. Coggeshall (afterwards the early settler of Rhode Island) for three years and his daughter, Phoebe, to be bound to him for fourteen years. On 4 March 1633/4, he was ordered severely whipped for running away from his master, Mr. Coxhall. On 7 April 1635 it was ordered that "Mr. Treasurer and Mr. Pincheon examine and prepare the business between Mr. Coxhall, Sayles his daughter, and John Levens [i.e. of Roxbury] and to return the same into ye next Court" (Mass. Col. Rec., Vol. I). Examination of the grandchildren of John and Mary (Williams) Sayles discloses two of the name Phoebe, while one of the daughters of John and Mary was named Phoebe, a somewhat rare name.

I would suggest that John Sayles of Charlestown in 1630 had issue three children, viz. Phoebe, born about 1628, John, born about 1629-30, and Richard, born about 1635. That John Sayles, the father, went to Aquidnick with John Coggeshall in the Hutchinson settlement and that from there he went to Providence, where we find him in 1645. He either died soon after or removed. His son John is our John Sayles of Providence, who married Roger Williams's daughter Mary. Richard, his third child, was of Providence in 1663 and 1688. He probably married and had a daughter Deborah, who became the wife of Caleb Carr, Jr. This is the logical explanation of the records above given, and the reappearance of the names of Richard, Deborah, and Phoebe, in the family of John and Mary (Williams) is, I submit, most significant.

The late Col. Charles E. Banks states that John Sayles of Charlestown came from Lavenham (pronounced Lenham) in Suffolk, but as he gives as reference "Banks Ms.," and as the Colonel was often very inaccurate in his identifications, something more than this is needed before we can determine whence John Sayles of Charlestown came.

THE FAMILY OF ALICE ALBRIGHT, WIFE OF ZACHARIAH THORNTON OF NEWPORT PAGNELL

By JOHN INSLEY CODDINGTON, M.A., of Cambridge, Mass.

[See the Thornton family in the Genealogist, vol. 15, pp. 33-38, 146-162.]

The Albright family lived at Woburn and Aspley Guise, co. Bedford. These parishes are respectively eight and seven miles distant from the town of Newport Pagnell, where the Thorntons lived. The name Albright (Albrett or Albritt) is found in the Woburn Parish Registers from 1613 on. Although no record has been found of the birth or baptism of James Albright, the father of Alice (Albright) Thornton, it is not improbable that he was a son of Hugh Albright of Woburn, yeoman, whose children by his two marriages were baptized at Woburn between 1639 and 1658.* The Albrights apparently became members of the Society of Friends early in the 1660's, and this membership entailed considerable conflict with the law, and from the records of these conflicts, we fortunately gain some insight into their activities.

Mr. F. G. Emmison, Recorder of the County of Bedford, has kindly examined the Bedfordshire Assize Records, the Court Rolls of the Manor of Aspley Guise, and other county muniments, for references to the Albright family, with the following results:

Records of the Court of Assizes, held at Bedford for the County of Bedford, 1660-1688.

- 1663 (Winter Assizes). Presentment of Recusants. Names include Hugh Albrith of Aspley Guise, yeoman.
- 1664 (Summer Assizes). Presentment of Recusants. Names include James Albright and William Albright, both of Woburn, yeomen.
- 1665 (Winter Assizes). Presentment of Recusants. Names include James and William Albritt, both of Woburn, yeomen, and also Mary, wife of William Albritt.
- 1666 (Winter Assizes). Presentment of Recusants. Names include Hugh Albright of Aspley Guise, yeoman.
- 1668 (Winter Assizes). Presentment of Recusants. Names include James Albright of Aspley Guise, yeoman, and William Albright, jr., of Aspley Guise.
- 1668 (Summer Assizes). Presentment of Recusants. Names include James Albright of Aspley Guise, yeoman.
- 1669 (Winter Assizes). Presentment of Recusants. Names include William Albright of Woburn, yeoman.

* Woburn Parish Registers, ed. by F. G. Emmison, in Bedfordshire Parish Register Series.

- 1670 (Winter Assizes). Presentment of Recusants. Names include James Albright of Aspley Guise, yeoman.
 1670 (Summer Assizes). Presentment of Recusants. Names include James Albright of Aspley Guise, yeoman, Elizabeth Albright of the same, widow, and William Albright of Woburn, yeoman.

In all these cases, the recusants were presented (or accused) for refusal to attend divine service in the parish church.

Court Rolls of the Manor of Aspley Guise, 1592-1713.

- 1662, 12 April. "It is ordered that Hugh Albright shall make a way a pole and a half wide for cattle & carts in the usuall and most convenient place in his meadowe that he hath in Swanesnest Mead, on paine to forfeit to the Lady of this Manor for every offence, iij li (£3)."
 1674, 26 Oct. "The homage on their oath present that James Albright has done likewise; therefore he is fined 10s." [The offence, set out in the previous entry, was that of allowing a cottage, built illegally on the waste land belonging to the Lord of the Manor, to stand.]
 1703, 1 April. "At this Court it is presented that James Albright, who held freely to himself & his heirs, from the Lord of the Manor, by fealty, suit of court, & the annual rent of 5½d., three acres of land and one acre 3 roods of meadow, one piece of land called le Highway, and another piece of land with the hedge thereon near the place called Clay pitt hole, after the last Court [the date of the previous Court was 7 Oct. 1695] died, and by his last will and testament in writing made, devised the same to Elizabeth his wife, for the term of her natural life; whereon there falls to the Lord, for a relief, 5½d. Which same Elizabeth, being present in Court, paid the relief, and arrears of rent."
 1707, 30 Sept. It was presented that after the death of the said Elizabeth Albright, James Albright willed that the said property should pass to Ambrose Reddall, gent., and Thomas How.

In addition to the manuscript records found by Mr. Emmison, there is some data which has been published, which deals with this Albright family. The Bedfordshire Hearth Tax Return for 1671 shows the following:*

Woburn. Widow Albright (1 hearth); Mary Albright (1 hearth); William Albright (3 hearths); William Albright (1 hearth).

Some further records show the constancy with which the Albrights practiced their Quaker principles. John Albright was imprisoned at Bedford for refusal to swear, 13 March 1660/1.† William Albright of Woburn (who gave £10) and James Albright of Woburn (who gave £6) were among those Friends who contributed to the purchase of Hogstie House Meeting House in the parish of Wavendon, co. Buckingham, in 1673.‡ Hugh Albright of Stony Stratford, co. Buckingham (presumably a relative) was fined for being absent from church, 12 July 1683, 4 Oct. 1683, 17 Jan. 1683/4 and 10 April 1684.§

The most important records of the Albright family of Woburn and Aspley Guise, however, consist of the will of James Albright, father of Alice (Albright) Thornton; and of the birth, marriage and death records of the Society of Friends. The will of James Albright, made and proved in 1699, in the Court of the Archdeacons of Bedford, is preserved in the Probate Registry at Birmingham. The Friends' Records are to be found in the Library of Friends' House in London. The will, the extracts from the Friends' Records, and a brief pedigree of the Albright family of Woburn and Aspley Guise, are given herewith.

From the foregoing records, the following pedigree of the Albright family of Woburn and Aspley Guise has been compiled:

JAMES ALBRIGHT of Woburn and Aspley Guise, co. Bedford, the testator of 1699, described variously as "yeoman" and "oatmeal-maker," died at Woburn 27 of 6th. month (Aug.) 1699. He may perhaps have been a son of Hugh Albright of Woburn, yeoman, who flourished 1639-1667. James Albright was a member of the Society of Friends, and as such was prosecuted for recusancy by the Assize Court of Bedford between 1664 and 1670, as were also several of his relatives. In 1674, he was fined for allowing a cottage to be built on the waste land of the Lord of the Manor of Aspley Guise. He married (1) at his own house at Aspley Guise, co. Bedford, 8 of 7th. month (Sept.) 1667, ELIZABETH YORKE of Hanslope, co. Buckingham, who died, either at Woburn or at Aspley Guise, 17 of 2nd. month (April) 1676. He married (2) 28 of 5th. month (July) 1678, ELIZABETH ADKINS, who was born at Greens Norton, co. Northampton, 27 of 7th. month (Sept.) 1654, daughter of Thomas and Sarah Adkins, of Greens Norton. She survived her husband, was executrix of his will, and on 1 April 1703 paid the relief to the Lord of the Manor of Aspley Guise and the arrears of rent on James Albright's land. She apparently died before 30 Sept. 1707.

Children by first wife, born at Woburn or Aspley Guise, co. Bedford:

THE ENGLISH ANCESTRY OF JAMES¹ DRAPER

By CLARENCE ALMON TORREY, PH.B., of Dorchester, Mass.

James Draper of Dedham and Roxbury, Mass., was the immigrant ancestor of the most numerous branch of the Draper family in America. It is generally known that he came from Heptonstall, Yorkshire, England. Unfortunately there are serious errors in print relating to him and his ancestry. The name of his father is incorrectly stated in the family history and the dates of his birth and death are also incorrect. These errors, and others, will be corrected in this paper and, for the first time, the names of his parents and grandparents will appear in an American publication.

The following erroneous statements will be corrected:

1. That James Draper was a son of Thomas Draper.
2. That he was born Apr. 21, 1618, as stated in "American Ancestry," vol. 8, p. 158.
3. That he died in July, 1694.
4. That his wife died in January, 1697.

Some other statements, generally accepted, will be questioned.

The facts about his baptism and ancestry have been learned from English sources,—chiefly from the Heptonstall, Yorkshire, Parish Records and the wills of his father and grandfather.

The erroneous statement that his father was Thomas Draper was based, presumably, on the deposition of John Draper, one of the sons of James¹ Draper, made April 25, 1742. According to the deposition, John's grandfather was Thomas Draper (see "The Drapers in America," by Thomas Waln-Morgan Draper, page 15).

The abstracts of the wills of Thomas Draper, grandfather of James Draper, and of William Draper, his father, are given below; also a copy of the record relating to the estate of William Draper, Jr., brother of James.

It will be noticed that Thomas Draper, in his will dated June 21, 1603, mentions his sisters-in-law Cristall Sultonstall [Christabel Saltonstall] and Elizabeth Naylor.* They and his wife were daughters of James Newall as appears from the following statement in the Transactions of the Halifax Antiquarian Society, 1922, pp. 81-82.

"In 1580 there are several entries relating to the disposition of an estate bequeathed by one James Newall to his three daughters and co-heiresses, Christabel, who married Richard Saltonstall, Grace, wife of Thomas Draper, and Elizabeth Newall, then a spinster. James, the father of these girls, was one of the sons of Randall Newall, who settled on them his property in the year 1546."

From English records the English line seems to be clearly established as follows:

THOMAS DRAPER made his will at Heptonstall, Yorkshire, June 21, 1603, which was proved Oct. 6, 1603. He married GRACE NEWALL, daughter of James Newall. She was buried June 21, 1600. He was buried July 9, 1603.

Children, exact order not known:

- +i. WILLIAM, b. ; m. GRACE MYCHELL [Mitchell].
- ii. GRACE, b. ; perhaps she m. Sept. 26, 1603, JOHN CRABTREE, or Nov. 14, 1603, Edward Mawd.
- iii. ABRAHAM, b. ; buried March 31, 1613.
- iv. THOMAS, b. ; probably d. unmarried. One Thomas Draper was buried March 5, 1607; another March 6, 1609.

WILLIAM DRAPER, son of Thomas and Grace (Newall) Draper, married GRACE MITCHELL, Aug. 29, 1603, at Heptonstall, Yorkshire, England. She was mentioned in his will, dated March 4, 1634, and probably survived him. He was buried Oct. 10, 1635.

* Probably wife of Richard Naylor, supervisor of Thomas Draper's will.

Children, baptized at Heptonstall:

- i. GRACE, bapt. Sept. , 1604; m. Apr. 12, 1630, MICHAEL HELLIWELL.
- ii. THOMAS, bapt. June 22, 1606; m. Dec. 10, 1627, SUSAN HORSFALL.
- iii. WILLIAM, bapt. June 30, 1608; m. Sept. 24, 1633, HELEN WOOD. He was buried Dec. 26, 1636. Administration on his goods was granted to his widow "Ellen," Feb. 16, 1636/7.
- iv. JOHN, bapt. Aug. 5, 1610; mentioned in his father's will.
- v. MARY, bapt. Sept. 20, 1612; m. Dec. 21, 1630, CHRISTOPHER SHACKLETON.
- vi. MARTHA, bapt. Sept. 18, 1614; m. Nov. 13, 1645, RICHARD DENBY.
- vii. SUSAN, bapt. Oct. 17, 1619; m. June 14, 1641, LUKE HORSFALL.
- +viii. JAMES, bapt. July 28, 1622; m. April 21, 1646, MIRIAM STANSFIELD; emigrated to New England.

In John² Draper's deposition, Apr. 25, 1742, he mentioned his father's brothers Thomas, John and William, and sisters Mary and Martha. James Draper, son of William, baptized July 28, 1622, had brothers and sisters with the same names mentioned in the deposition. These names, as a group, appear in no other Draper family of Heptonstall about that time. Moreover, James Draper deposed in 1676, ae. 54 (Wyman's Charlestown, Mass., page 309). It seems perfectly clear that John Draper was mistaken—that his grandfather was William Draper, not Thomas.

It is stated in the family history and elsewhere that James Draper died in July, 1694, and that his widow Miriam died in January, 1697. These records are based on their tombstone inscriptions in West Roxbury, Mass. Both dates are incorrect.

According to Roxbury town records, James Draper died July 13, 1697. This date is probably correct. That he did not die in 1694 is evident from the fact he deeded land to his son James Draper, Jr., March 13, 1697 [1696/7]. See Suffolk County, Mass., Deeds, vol. 38, folio 193.

His sons James and Jonathan were appointed administrators of his estate, Aug. 19, 1697, his widow Miriam having declined administration. Jonathan Draper, the surviving administrator, rendered his account June 9, 1718. One item is:

Paid a debt of keeping my Mother 3 years & 6 months £50 0 0

Undoubtedly, this debt was for keeping his mother after her husband's death. As he died July 13, 1697, and she survived him at least three years and six months, it is evident that she did not die in January 1697, but survived at least until January, 1700/1.

Two statements in the family history are questioned:

1. That Miriam Draper, daughter of James, baptized Feb. 7, 1646/7, died in England in infancy. There is very strong evidence that she married Daniel Holbrook. James Draper, Daniel Holbrook and Miriam Holbrook signed a deed Nov. 5, 1672. The land was bounded on one side by land owned by James Draper. (Suffolk County Deeds, vol. 14, folio 51.)

In 1673 Daniel Holbrook died as a result of an accident. His widow Miriam signed a paper relinquishing administration on his estate, which was insolvent. Her signature was witnessed by James Draper.

2. That James Draper resided first in Roxbury, Mass., then in Dedham, and again in Roxbury. The writer has not seen any evidence that he was in Roxbury before he settled in Dedham. He was admitted a townsman of Dedham, Jan. 2, 1653/4. According to a deed made Oct. 3, 1667, he was then "of Dedham." The birth of his daughter Patience, Aug. 17, 1668, was entered in Roxbury records. It appears, then, that he removed to Roxbury in 1667 or 1668.

The Halifax, England, Parish Register (printed) was consulted, but the Draper items did not seem helpful. It is unfortunate that the volume containing the earliest records of Heptonstall parish was lost or destroyed many years ago. The volume doubtless contained important records relating to the Draper and related families.

The ancestry of Thomas Draper, James¹ Draper's grandfather, can probably be found by securing further information from English records, including probate and land records. Many residents of Yorkshire held land by leases which could be transferred to other persons. Information about the leases and transfers of holdings is readily secured by searching the records at Wakefield. The writer has not made any plans for continuing the search and no further report from him about the Drapers of Yorkshire may be expected.
